in TWO DAYS!

Ham License Partial List of Activities:

- Join in on the fun and excitement of Ham Radio.
- Help with disaster communications. (Flood, earthquake, fires, etc)
- Bounce radio signals off the moon.
- Talk to Hams, and make new friends, all over the world.
- Join in one or more of many contests going on year around.
- Go outside and participate in "Hidden Transmitter" hunts.
- Travel almost anywhere worldwide and bring your radio with you.
- Visit a South Pacific island, and the whole world may call you!
- Did you know that there are Ham radio satellites in space?
- Talk to astronauts in the International Space Station. Yes, Hams are aboard.

Find out more about the above in this class.

In the event of a disaster, Ham radio is often the only communications available. No cell phone, no regular telephones. Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT), Red Cross, and others often use Ham operators for their communications. You can join and be a Ham operator member.
